Mr. Duncan McCallum,

332 Clinton Street,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. McCallum:

I have just had a letter from Major Foulds stating that he has asked you to go to see him and will arrange to have you taken on the strength and will give you leave of absence without pay for such period as is necessary for you to complete your medical course. This should be quite satisfactory.

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dr. Thomas McCrae,

Philadelphia, Pa.

My dear Dr. McCrae:

Will you convey to Mrs. McCrae and accept for yourself my warm thanks for your kind invitation that I should stay with you on my forthcoming visit to Philadelphia. I do not need to say that it would have given me a great deal of pleasure to be able to accept your invitation, but already some weeks ago I promised Mr. Madeira to be his guest while I am to be in Philadelphia. I hope, however, to be able to see something of you when I am there.

With kindest regards to Mrs. McCrae and yourself, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Miss C. McCaffin,

Dominion Bank Chambers,

288 Bloor Street East, Toronto.

Dear Miss McCaffin:

At a meeting of the Board of Governors held yesterday afternoon it was agreed to grant permission to the officers of the T.M.C.A. to hold a service in Convocation Hall on the evening of Monday, May 27th. Will you be kind enough to communicate with the Superintendent of the University, Mr. Thomas Campbell, with regard to the expense involved ?

I appreciate your invitation to take part in the service, but I have consistently confined my work in this direction to the University itself, and in any case I do not expect to be in Toronto on that day.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Would you be kind enough to grant us this permission ?

Reference was made that the Public School Board should share in the cost of my position. I prefer not being under two authorities as there would be sure to be friction.

My lectures on the Public School Prints would be England and Greek History of the period required for matriculation into University illustrated by objects of the Museum would be very helpful to the pupils that my whole time may be taken up with the local organization and the Museum would receive practically no benefit.

My aim is to work entirely for the benefit of the Museum therefore I wish to be free to make the most of opportunities as they may arise. Lectures will be of interest only when heard and in this way I take the cost of my position away to myself many times over. This will take place but I should like to see it.
